Objective of Event:-This play was organized by students to spread awareness of ‘Drug Addiction’ among youth.This event would initiate students and our society to think of this spreading evil which is termite-like eating.Through this play we aim to achieve the following:-

- 1)Education & Awareness-Inform audience about effects of drug abuse,it’s effect on mental & physical health.
- 2)Empowerment- Empower college students to actively participate in spreading awareness and encourage their peers to live drug-free lifestyle.
- 3)Breaking Stigma- Challenge stereotypes associated with addiction and make people understand about consequences of addiction.

Details (Execution):- On 13th March 2024, our college organized a street play(Nukkad Natak)in college premises. The event started at 11:00 am with gathering of performers and spectators. Coordinators, Darshan Suwalka and Kirti Sharma started play with a catching tag line which attracted visitors towards them. This event included 2 acts which conveyed deep message about impact of drug addiction on society.

The first act was about a college boy who took admission in an engineering college,left his home with expectation of getting knowledge and job.First month of his college passed with disappointment and was in stress.To overcome this situation he held hands of his friends who took them in world of drugs. He left his studies and went on wrong track to satisfy his need of drugs.He was arrested by police and was going to be charged with case.His parents requested to set him off .His parents solved his problem and took hm out of this quagmire and he stop taking drugs.

The second act was about domestic violence,where a drunkard husband use to beat his wife for money to get alcohol.No one from neighbour came forward to help her.She made a complaint in police about this and husband was arrested for his crime.

These act conveyed a meaning of how drugs are eating aur life like termite,it also laid stress to quit on consuming drugs and make people aware about it.Our principal praised students for their effort on raising this social issue.
