About The Club:-

Model United Nations is one of the most popular ways to learn about the workings of the United Nations. Conferences are organized by hundreds of educational institutions at all levels to engage young students in diplomatic debates and conversations that resemble those at the United Nations. It is often the first time that students are exposed to international affairs.

First, it introduces a leadership structure and responsibilities that more accurately mirrors the relationship between the General Assembly and the UN Secretariat. As a result, the student leaders play a more substantive role in the conference than they do in typical MUN simulations which adds to the appeal of their participation. Model UN helps students to develop public speaking, writing, and research skills. In addition, they often provide the first entry point into international affairs and introduce students to the wide range of peace and security, human rights, development, and rule of law issues that are on the UN agenda.

Objective of the club:-

MUN club for students which aims to enhance students' soft skills and research skills, promoting exposure and experiential learning, which consequently helps develop their personality.

Outcomes of the club:-

1. Develop strong public speaking, research, and debate skills.
2. Gain deeper understanding of global issues and diplomacy.
3. Build leadership and teamwork through simulations and event organization.
4. Enhance your resume with MUN awards and valuable networking opportunities.

Report of Second Event for the batch (2024-25). China debt diplomacy.

Date, Time and Venue of the event: -25-09-2024, 2:00 PM -3:30 PM, 5f2,Civil Block.

Level of the event: - College level.

Objective of the event:- The objective of the discussion on China's debt diplomacy in the MUN club is to explore its global impact, especially on developing nations. Participants will analyze China's lending practices, often seen through its Belt and Road Initiative, and how they influence geopolitical power dynamics, economic sovereignty, and diplomatic relations. The goal is to foster a deeper understanding of debt diplomacy as a tool of foreign policy, promote critical thinking on international economic strategies, and encourage members to propose solutions or policies that can address the potential risks associated with such practices.

Details (Execution):-

1. Introduction (10 mins): Begin with a brief presentation on China's debt diplomacy, focusing on key concepts like the Belt and Road Initiative, debt traps, and global influence.
2. Group Formation (15 mins): Divide participants into groups representing different countries affected by China's lending policies (e.g., Sri Lanka, Pakistan, Kenya, etc.) and international bodies like the IMF or the World Bank.
3. Country Position Statements (20 mins): Each group will research and present their country's stance, outlining how China's loans have impacted their economy and politics.
4. Moderated Discussion (30 mins): Facilitate a debate where countries negotiate, share concerns, and discuss solutions. Encourage critical thinking about the implications of debt diplomacy.
5. Resolution Drafting (20 mins): Each group drafts a resolution proposing measures to either counter or responsibly engage with China's financial influence.
6. Feedback and Conclusion (10 mins): Review key takeaways, provide feedback, and summarize the different perspectives discussed

Middle East Crisis.

Date, Time and Venue of the event: -09-10-2024, 2:00 PM -3:30 PM, 5f2,Civil Block.

Level of the event: - College level.

Objective of the event:- The objective of the discussion on the Middle East Crisis in the MUN club is to examine the ongoing geopolitical, economic, and humanitarian challenges in the Middle East. Participants will analyze the complex causes of instability, including regional conflicts, religious tensions, and foreign interventions. The discussion will focus on how these issues affect global security, regional cooperation, and the lives of civilians in affected areas. The goal is to foster a deeper understanding of the Middle East crisis, promote critical thinking on international diplomacy, and encourage members to propose solutions or policies that can address the region's challenges and pave the way for long-term peace and stability.

Details (Execution):-

1. Introduction (10 mins): Begin with a brief presentation on the Middle East crisis, outlining the historical context, key conflicts (such as the Syrian Civil War, Israeli-Palestinian conflict, Yemen, etc.), and the role of international powers. Highlight issues like sectarianism, foreign military involvement, and the humanitarian toll.
2. Group Formation (15 mins): Divide participants into groups representing different countries or international bodies involved in the Middle East crisis (e.g., Saudi Arabia, Iran, Israel, Syria, the United States, Russia, the United Nations, etc.). Each group will research their country's perspective on the conflict and its role in the region.
3. Country Position Statements (20 mins): Each group will research and present their country's stance on the Middle East crisis, focusing on key issues such as regional security, political alliances, human rights concerns, and proposed solutions. Groups will also highlight the geopolitical interests and concerns that drive their country's actions.
4. Moderated Discussion (30 mins): Facilitate a debate where countries negotiate, share concerns, and discuss solutions. Encourage critical thinking about the implications of crisis.

5. Resolution Drafting (20 mins): Each group drafts a resolution proposing measures to either counter or responsibly engage with China's financial influence.
6. Feedback and Conclusion (10 mins): Review key takeaways from the discussion, providing feedback on the proposals presented. Summarize the different perspectives discussed, highlighting the complexity of the Middle East crisis and the importance of international cooperation in addressing these issues. Encourage members to reflect on the role of diplomacy in peace-building efforts.
