Objective of the event:- The objective of the discussion on the Middle East Crisis in the MUN club is to examine the ongoing geopolitical, economic, and humanitarian challenges in the Middle East. Participants will analyze the complex causes of instability, including regional conflicts, religious tensions, and foreign interventions. The discussion will focus on how these issues affect global security, regional cooperation, and the lives of civilians in affected areas. Introduction (10 mins): Begin with a brief presentation on the Middle East crisis, outlining the historical context, key conflicts (such as the Syrian Civil War, Israeli-Palestinian conflict, Yemen, etc.), and the role of international powers. Highlight issues like sectarianism, foreign military involvement, and the humanitarian toll.
2. Group Formation (15 mins): Divide participants into groups representing different countries or international bodies involved in the Middle East crisis (e.g., Saudi Arabia, Iran, Israel, Syria, the United States, Russia, the United Nations, etc.). Each group will research their country's perspective on the conflict and its role in the region.
3. Country Position Statements (20 mins): Each group will research and present their country's stance on the Middle East crisis, focusing on key issues such as regional security, political alliances, human rights concerns, and proposed solutions. Groups will also highlight the geopolitical interests and concerns that drive their country's actions.
4. Moderated Discussion (30 mins): Facilitate a debate where countries negotiate, share concerns, and discuss solutions. Encourage critical thinking about the implications of crisis.
5. Resolution Drafting (20 mins): Each group drafts a resolution proposing measures to either counter or responsibly engage with China's financial influence.
