Objective of the event:-

"Web Rizz Challenge: The Ultimate Web Development Quiz" aimed to create an exciting and competitive environment for students to test and expand their knowledge of web development. Organized by the Dynamic Club, the quiz was conducted offline to ensure active participation and fair competition. To uphold the integrity of the quiz and minimize any chances of academic dishonesty, the test was administered using printed MCQ question papers, providing a controlled setting for participants to demonstrate their expertise in web technologies. This approach ensured a fair evaluation of students' abilities while fostering a deeper understanding of web development concepts.

Details (Execution):-

• The coordinator and volunteers arrived at the venue early to make necessary arrangements.
• Students arrived at the venue on time and were guided to their seats.
• The test was conducted on Google Forms with MCQs assessing participants' web development knowledge, ensuring accessibility and fair evaluation.
• At the start of the event, participants were briefed on the rules and regulations of the quiz to ensure a smooth and fair experience.
• Exam was conducted by Google form.
• Upon completion, responses were collected and securely stored for evaluation.
• Attendance of all participants was duly recorded.

Feedback of the event:-

The "Web Rizz Challenge" received highly positive feedback from participants. Students appreciated the well-structured format, noting that the Google Forms-based MCQ test provided a fair and distraction-free assessment. Many found the quiz both challenging and insightful, sparking interest in deeper web development topics. The event encouraged healthy competition and offered valuable insights into real-world web technologies. Suggestions for future editions included broader topic coverage and longer duration for in-depth questions. Overall, the feedback highlighted the event's success in delivering an engaging and educational experience.
