About Extra-curricular Activities (ECA):-

At the beginning of the twenty-first century, many colleges and universities have a broad educational mission: to develop the "whole student." On college campuses, extracurricular involvement is a key tool in this personal development. For the majority of college and university students, involvement in extracurricular activities plays an integral role in the collegiate experience. Students become involved in extracurricular activities not only for entertainment, social, and enjoyment purposes, but most important, to gain and improve skills. A wide and diversified range of extracurricular activities exists on SKIT campuses, meeting a variety of student interests.

The importance of extracurricular activities on college campuses is well established. The primary goals of extracurricular activities focus on the individual student level, the institutional level, and the broader community level. These activities exist to complement the university's academic curriculum and to augment the student's educational experience. According to a 1993 article by Alexander Astin, almost any type of student involvement in college positively affects student learning and development. Extracurricular activities provide a setting to become involved and to interact with other students, thus leading to increased learning and enhanced development. Specifically, a student's peer group is the most important source of influence on a student's academic and personal development. By identifying with a peer group, that group may influence a student's affective and cognitive development as well as his or her behavior.

As the development of the well-rounded individual is a principal goal of extracurricular activities on college and university campuses, the numerous experiences these activities afford positively impact students' emotional, intellectual, social, and inter-personal development. By working together with other individuals, students learn to negotiate, communicate, manage conflict, and lead others. Taking part in these out-of-the-classroom activities helps students to understand the importance of critical thinking skills, time management, and academic and intellectual competence. Involvement in activities helps students mature socially by providing a setting for student interaction, relationship formation, and discussion. Working outside of the classroom with diverse groups of individuals allows for students to gain more self-confidence, autonomy, and appreciation for others' differences and similarities.

Students also develop skills specific to their career path and imperative for future job success. Students have opportunities to improve their leadership and interpersonal skills while also increasing their self-confidence. Extracurricular involvement allows students to link academic knowledge with practical experience, thereby leading to a better understanding of their own abilities, talents, and career goals. Future employers seek individuals with these increased skill levels, making these involved students more viable in the job market. Specifically, participation in extracurricular activities and leadership roles in these activities are positively linked to attainment of one's first job and to managerial potential.

Student involvement in extracurricular activities also positively impacts educational attainment. Ernest T. Pascarella and Patrick T. Terenzini's 1991 research indicates that extracurricular involvement has a positive impact on attaining a bachelor's degree and on educational aspirations. Students who are actively engaged are more likely to have higher educational ambitions than uninvolved students.

To give students an opportunity to showcase and hone their talents and also prepare them for intra college competitions, various club activities are conducted through the year. Club activities not only help students shape their personal interests and hobbies but also improve their leadership and social skills. We offer 25 clubs and students of first year to final year can choose the club depending on his/her interest. The faculty coordinator and student coordinator for each club is provided to run the club. The selected faculties and students plan the activities for the year. Students share their ideas and enjoy learning from each other during club periods. Faculties are there to guide them at every step. Experts are also invited to share their ideas with the students.

Objectives of Extra-curricular Activity (ECA):-

1. Exploring of Interests and passion:-

Introduction:

‘Swachhata Pakhwada’ is an important initiative under the Swachh Bharat Mission to engage all Ministries and Departments in Swachhata related activities, thereby making Swachhata "everyone's business". Swachhata Pakhwada was launched in 2016 and 2021 would be the 6th successive year of Swachhata Pakhwada implementation.

As a part of this nationwide agenda, SKIT has actively participated in “Swachh Bharat Abhiyan” by observing “SWACHHTA PAKHWADA” during 1st September, 2021 to 15th September, 2021.

The main objective of the program was to create awareness about plastic wastes, its impacts and cleanliness in and around the campus. Swachhta Pakhwada serves in connecting people to the nature and enhancing those actions that make our country a better place.

Moreover, this campaign focuses on “Hygiene and Sanitation” particularly keeping in mind the ongoing pandemic and to reinforce the message of cleanliness amongst public.

Therefore, ECA Cell, SKIT conducted a 15 days event at college level in order to support our government in spreading awareness and knowledge of cleanliness and hygiene to prevent our environment from further damage.

Event mainly focuses on gaining the knowledge by quizzes, extempore, poetry, etc. and then using it to get best out of waste from our surroundings. A little initiative from our sides to sustain our healthy future is our motto. All the events were conducted in online mode due to pandemic situation.

Objective of the event: A cultural event was organized by ECA Cell to show the excellence of students in extra-curricular.

Details (Execution): -

Development is the virtue desired by every human being and recognition plays an important role in development. One such attempt, better to call it a successful attempt, was made by the authorities of Swami Keshvanand of Institute of Technology Management and Gramotthan, Jaipur as well. On the 27th of May 2022, NAAC Peer Team visited SKIT Jaipur at the special invitation of the director. They were subjected to a warm welcome by the authorities, staff, and students. After a visit to the college premises, the team was taken to the heart of the college, the Gyan Mandir Auditorium as there was a small cultural event organized to show the excellence of students in extra-curriculars. The event started well on time with the authorities and NAAC Peer Team paying their obeisance to the goddess of knowledge with Saraswati Vandana before the commencement of the performances. This was followed by the floral welcome of the NAAC Peer Team on the stage. The stage was set on fire with the very first performance, which was a piece of classical music intertwined with Indian pop music performance. It was presented by the members Spic Macay Club. Next in the queue was a video presentation, showing the magnificent work being done by all the clubs in the institute. This was followed by a cultural dance performance by the team of the dance club. The dance performance included all the folk and traditional dance forms being practiced for ages in Rajasthan such as Kalbelia, Ghoomar, and Lehariya, etc. Not only the Rajasthan folk but also a Bhangra performance was also presented by the students. The next performance was a play by the Docu-Drama Club of the college by means of which students interpret the importance of self-confidence to the audience. The last performance on the list was a western dance performance, one part of which included a face-off between Indian classical dance and western dance. At the end, the event was concluded by a formal vote of thanks by authorities. All students received deserved appreciation. The overall event was a grand success and was acknowledged by the NAAC Peer team as well. Certainly, the institute with its habit of hard work succeeded in impressing the NAAC Peer Team and became the first college the in entire Rajasthan state to receive an A++ grading by NAAC in its very first attempt.
