5 DAYS ONLINE FACULTY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM ON
RESEARCH METHODOLOGY:
ART OF WRITING RESEARCH PAPER & THESIS

February 1-5, 2021

Report

Five day online Faculty Development Program (FDP) on “Research Methodology: Art of Writing Research Paper & Thesis” was by Department of Management Studies, SKIT on February 1-5, 2021.

Writing a research paper or thesis can be difficult? No one knows your research better than you do, which is why it can be tricky to explain your result and conclusion in a way that everyone can understand. Many questions may arise in your head, including 'Where do I start?' or 'How do I link these topics or chapters together?' Effective Writing is writing which has a logical flow of ideas and is cohesive. This means it holds together well because there are links between sentences and paragraphs. Writing which is cohesive works as a unified whole and is easy to follow because it uses language effectively to maintain a focus and to keep the reader 'on track'. The core objective of the FDP was to equip the research scholars and academicians with set of skills and potentiality to undertake the research very effectively in the disciplines of social science and to turn completed research into publishable material of high quality in the form of articles, journals and books. This FDP is designed to offer the practical guidelines and direct the researchers through all the stages of research from identifying a research problem to the submission of a dissertation, report writing and research article. The course intends to deal with variety of quantitative and qualitative research methods used in social science researches. It also gives exposure to data analysis with the help of software packages like SPSS and R. The FDP consists of both theory and practical.

Session Plan

Day 1: Research Methodology for Writing Research Paper and Thesis

Day 2: Review of Literature & Protection from Plagiarism

Day 3: Testing of Hypothesis Parametric Test Using SPSS & R

Day 4: Choosing a Statistical Test

Day 5: Report Writing Skills & Effective Citations and Referencing

Objectives of FDP:

The major objectives kept in mind while framing this FDP were:

- ✓ To expose the participants to contemporary research methodology.
- ✓ To provide an opportunity to researchers to present the problems related to the research.
- ✓ To impart capabilities for formulation and testing of hypothesis based on the nature of research.
- ✓ To make the participants aware about latest trends in social science research discipline.

Day: 1

The FDP was commenced, after the registration of participants, introductions and Inaugural function. In inauguration the welcome memo was given by Dr. Savita Choudhary, Organizing Secretary –of the event. In the first session Dr. Garima Mathur discussed who introduced the participants to the basic aspects of research, types of research on the basis of various parameters, importance and its characteristics. She also opened an insight about importance and procedure of conducting Quality Doctoral Research in specific to Education. First of all, she pointed that the quest for understanding social reality and human behaviour is at the root of methodological concerns. She explained the importance of two key concepts such as ‘research’, and ‘methodology’ to enable participants to understand the basics of any research in social science. It was pointed that research is more than an understanding of set of skills; it is a way of thinking.

Day: 2

In the second session Dr. Jyoti Jain explained the theme of Review of Literature & Protection from Plagiarism. The session applied more focus on how to reviewing the literature and find the which is a critical part and gap in the research process without plagiarism.

Day: 3

The third session was on Testing of Hypothesis Parametric Test Using SPSS & R; Dr. Jyoti Jain explains Research Objectives and Research Questions Formulation. It provides researchers how research questions formulate may precede conceptualization and will direct them what answers we are trying to seek and objectives of the study. The statistics concepts were explained to the participants. In continuation to that briefing was done on descriptive statistics with summary calculations and graphical and tabular displays were explained. Before proceeding on this topic the participants were taught to understand the importance and the basis of distribution of variables. The speaker makes the participants to actively engage in the discussion and clarify the concepts. Participants were highly satisfied by having clarity in the concepts.

Day: 4 & 5

The fourth session was taken by Dr. Priyanka Bhaskar her topic was Choosing a Statistical Test. The session applied more focus on sampling design which is a critical part in the research process. Conceptual facts related to sampling techniques and its classification into probability and non-probability sampling were clarified with videos examples. Biases associated with determining sample design were explained and discussed in detail. In continuation to that activity session was carried out by the resource persons to understand the concept of sampling by the participants. And the last session was taken by Dr. Garima Mathur who discussed Report Writing Skills & Effective Citations and Referencing. These sessions were followed by question-answer session, discussion and view points of the participants and speakers. The FDP concluded with Valedictory session wherein the certificates were distributed to all the participants. E-Mementos were also given to the experts. The FDP was well designed and implemented by the Coordinator Dr. Ravish Pandey, Assistant Professor-DMS. The FDP has attained its objectives and was a great success.

5 DAYS ONLINE FACULTY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM ON

RESEARCH METHODOLOGY:

ART OF WRITING RESEARCH PAPER & THESIS

February 1-5, 2021

Outcome & Learning's of the FDP:

- The FDP helped the researchers in developing an approach towards the importance of identifying and developing correct research problem and selection of suitable research design. How to do proper literature review and identifying research gap? Why and how hypothesis is used in quantitative analysis? How to appropriately test for differences between groups and how to interpret the results?
- The second and equally important learning for the participants was to handle huge accumulated literature for questionnaire designing, interpreting literature properly and framing relevant questions, integrating the information into judgments, and expressing those judgments in words.
- Report writing session helped the participants with tools for identifying their report's main points and supporting details. Suggest several steps writers can take to improve a report's readability.
- The topic covered in the last session was Ethics in research and publication. The session helped the participants to understand that Ph.D. is a life long journey and the researcher must follow ethical guidelines issued by regulatory committees in order to ensure the safety of the participants of a study, the public at large, and that of the researcher himself

- By the end programme participants were developed with conceptual clarity and practical knowledge to undertake quality research and writing good research papers field-reports and project proposals etc.
- All the sessions were very much informative. The discussed areas are of great benefit for the participants as the topics match with the current research work. Participants were enlightened and benefitted with the wisdom of the speakers. The FDP received a warm feedback from all the participants.

Feedback Received: The participants felt that the delivery and presentation of the resource person was good and the FDP brought practical knowledge of the subject in them. They also felt that the FDP was coordinated very well and such FDP's should be arranged regularly.
